Changing the date for congressmen also changes the date for election of state Supreme Court justices.

Proponents of the bill argued that changing the date to June would permit congressmen to attend the state and national conventions instead of having to be campaigning for re-election.

Others said the change also would mean Mississippi's congressmen would be elected by the time the Democratic national convention met, all but guaranteeing the party seniority even if Mississippi did bolt the national convention.

The bill came as the House delayed action on a Senate-passed bill to legalize whiskey on a local option basis with strict control provisions.

A Hancock County circuit court jury Tuesday convicted Andrew Johnson, a 55-year-old farmer, of grand larceny in the theft of a saddle.

Circuit Clerk Lamar Otis said the 12-man jury deliberated only about ten minutes before returning its verdict to Judge Leslie B. Grant in the Bay St. Louis trial. Judge Grant sentenced Johnson to a one-year term in the state penitentiary.

Johnson was tried on the grand larceny charge last week but the court declared a mistrial when a jury reported it was unable to reach a verdict after three hours of deliberations.

District Attorney Boyce Holleman immediately moved for the retrial held Tuesday. Johnson pleaded his own defense.

In another case, Circuit Court Otis said Orlan Slaydon, 78, of near Nicholson changed pleading to guilty to an indictment charging him with receiving stolen goods.

Judge Grant deferred sentence of Slaydon until the September term of court.

The Hancock County court recessed until today when trial of Jerry Slaydon of near Nicholson on three counts of grand larceny is set.

COLMER BLASTS BUTLER'S CALL ON LOYALTY OATH

Washington—Rep. William M. Colmer (D-Miss.) yesterday accused Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler of trying to force the South out of the Democratic party.

Colmer blasted Butler's call for party loyalty oaths or alternate Democratic delegations from Southern states to compete with regular Democratic delegates for the right to seats at the presidential convention at Los Angeles in July.

Colmer called Butler a "would be dictator" in a statement to the House. He said if Butler thinks the people of the South are going to the convention with hat in hand like beggars asking for alms, he has another thought coming.

In asserting that Butler obviously seeks to drive the South out of the party Colmer said Butler insulted the South by asking for the loyalty oath or alternative delegations for rump conventions.

WAVELAND

WANDERINGS

 GEORGETTE B. HALL

We saw Natchez as the traveler might see Greece. We saw Dunleith, the most beautiful of Southern ante-bellum homes, on a high bluff just as the Parthenon is on the Acropolis and for two days, we lingered in an atmosphere of hoop skirts, columned mansions, crystal chandeliers, the treacheries of the Natchez Trace and the glory that King Cotton brought to the town overlooking the wide Mississippi. We included this reporter and Mr. Alma Parker, teachers at Bay High School, Miss Lynne Hall, High School, Miss Catherine of Bay St. Louis. After attending the Mississippi Education Association Convention in Jackson, the group motored to Natchez and took a tour of the famous old homes scheduled for viewing that day by the Natchez Pilgrimage. The visitors saw Twin Oaks, Melrose, Linden, Elmwood, and Elgin. Later in the day, they had an opportunity to view Mount Repose, Mistletoe, Rosalie, The Parsonage, Connelley's Tavern, Cherokee, Dunleith, Monmouth, and Stanton Hall which is called the most palatial of the many mansions built during this period. The group had dinner in the Carriage House Restaurant of Stanton Hall. This reporter was surprised to learn that so few Mississippians from this area have ever been to Natchez. May I heartily recommend the trip, if you enjoy living in the past. But don't go expecting to see these magnificent homes at any time of the year. They are only open during February and March, the Pilgrimage months, and the visitor has to take a tour in order to see the truly magnificent interiors of these mansions. Perhaps you can plan a trip for next year. It's worth every wonderful minute of the tour.

Mrs. Bourgeois was a resident of Waveland for many years and will be missed by all those who knew her.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Grigsby of Vacation Lane have returned after a trip to Natchez, La. where they were called due to the serious illness and subsequent death of Mr. Grigsby's mother, Mrs. F. Grigsby. Sympathy is extended to the family through this column.

A hearty welcome to Waveland is extended to Mrs. Helen Nadell of New Orleans who has purchased the new cottage on Waveland Avenue just across the street from Ruppel's. Mrs. Nadell tells us that she has lived in New York and was once one of the famous Ziegfeld Follies girls. She has also been an actress and recently had the honor of being a guest on the Jack Paar show.

Congratulations to Joe Colson who has been appointed by Governor Ross Barnett to serve on the Mississippi Seafood Commission. Joe will serve for four years along with other members of the commission.

Mrs. Roger Boudages enjoyed the weekend in Baton Rouge where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carrio and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brechter will be coming to Waveland more and more now that they have purchased a home. The Warner Gervin home on Hoffman Lane has been purchased by them through Mollere's Realty.

Ladies from Waveland who assisted with arrangements at the Yacht Club luncheon for the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Fall Dinner were Mesdames Walter Grimes, Ray Gordon, Herbert M. Grimes, and Harold Hicks.

Good luck to Diane Dickson who will compete for additional honors in the 4-H talent contest to be held in Hattiesburg. Diane won first place honors in the local competition of 4-Hers.

GIRL SCOUTS

We are including in our news this week a copy of a poem written by Mrs. Price Western, leader of Brownie Troop No. 100 on the occasion of the accident which recently befell Scout Patricia Thornton. We are happy to hear that Pat is making good progress toward recovery.

ONE LITTLE BROWNIE

Our meeting is over; we all had fun; But we've left the place cluttered; There is work to be done. I tell the Brownies, "I'd like to know 'Who'll clean the kitchen before we go?'" The lazy Brownies all keep still, But ONE little Brownie says, "I will."

In the cookie sale each Brownie Works At doing her share; not one of them shirks. But when I tell them to finish the chore Our troop must sell twenty-four boxes more. Discouraged Brownies all keep still, But ONE little Brownie says, "I will."

In the Centennial play the Scouts have a spot. Though the hour is late and the weather is hot, They could count on us—until they said, "Who wants to march in tomorrow's parade?" When tired little Brownies all keep still, But ONE little Brownie said, "I will."

Our Council asked if we leaders perchance Could recruit little Brownies to learn a French dance. The Saturday lessons might be hard, But somehow I don't consider it odd. When most of the Brownies again keep still, That ONE little Brownie says, "I will."

We look at our best and we're ready to go On "Uncle Henry's" TV show. We all feel strange. He says, "Don't balk."

"Who wants to be the first to talk," The scared little Brownies all keep still, But ONE little Brownie says, "I will."

As one school session approaches its end, We prepare to "fly up" all Brownies aged ten. They're "over the bridge." I ask as they pause, "Who'll lead in reciting the Girl Scout Laws?"

Our brand new Scouts are timid still, But ONE little Girl Scout says "I will."

And now we hear with deep concern, Patricia has suffered a serious burn. But Patricia has courage to fight and to win, For Patricia isn't the type to give in.

She's a brave little Girl Scout, remembered still As that ONE little Brownie who said, "I will."

Here...
you'll find a Faith
to live by...

It's quiet inside. Quiet with the peace of centuries, for this is God's House.

Within these walls, the worries which loomed so large outside become less fearsome... for the first time perhaps you see them in their true perspective. If this alone were the reward of Faith, it would be enough. But there is more.

Faith is a source of strength, a reservoir of power that helps you meet the needs of every day. By worshiping with your family each week at your church or synagogue, you're giving them a measure of security no amount of money could buy. The Faith to hope... to grow... to live by.

Build a stronger, richer life...

Worship together every week

FIELD BURNING HURTS PRODUCTIVITY OF SOIL

Field burning is an expensive practice that damages crop land productivity and often allows five to escape into nearby woods where it also damages the productivity of their stands. Research has shown that soils need decayed plant residues or organic matter in order to be fully productive. Fertilizers applied to soils lacking in organic matter are rapidly bleached out of the soil by rainfall. Field fires destroy valuable organic matter which farmers cannot afford to lose.

1960 Miss Mississippi Pageant To Be The Largest In The South

Vicksburg—The 1960 Miss Mississippi Pageant will be one of the largest ever held in the South, according to Jack Ramsey, pageant director.

A dozen more entries have already been received by the Vicksburg Junior Chamber of Commerce official sponsors of the Miss America Preliminary Pageant, than participated in last year's pageant, Ramsey stated. Forty-five sponsoring organizations from all over the state have signed up and more are expected to do so before the pageant, August 4-6.

If many more sponsors want to enter candidates for the title of Miss Mississippi, Ramsey advised, the pageant may have to be extended from the usual three days to four.

The success of the last two Mississippi winners, Lynda Lee Mead, Miss America 1960, and Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America, 1959, has aroused considerable interest in this year's contest throughout the nation as well as in every corner of Mississippi.

In the two years that the Vicksburg Jaycees have sponsored the state pageant, Miss Mississippi has won the national crown. Ramsey continued that it was "very possible" to have Mississippi capture the Miss America title three times in a row. "We have been told by national pageant representatives that we work harder than most states to try to find the very best representative of our state possible and in giving her further training for the Miss America pageant this year, we intend to stage the best pageant Mississippi has ever seen and to have a girl in the national contest who will have an honest chance for the Miss America title," he concluded.

The Sanford, publicity chairman for this year's pageant, remarked Lynda Mead and Mary Ann Mobley have done and are doing a tremendous job as ambassadors for the state. "We could not have purchased the good will and publicity for the state that these charming girls have secured for us. Now, it is up to all of us to follow up and continue the good work they have done," said Sanford, who joins Ramsey in asking for the cooperation of every citizen in Mississippi in making this year's pageant great.

"Worst roads in the world, but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out!"

Out near Wathena, Kansas, farmer Milt Roundy tends 800 acres with only one helper—his 1960 Chevrolet pickup. The truck almost never runs on Kansas's fine state highways—instead it averages about 2,500 miles a month on unimproved back-country trails or on hauls into the fields, off the road. "In my book, these are the worst roads in the world," Mr. Roundy says, "but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out. It doesn't fishtail or whip around like other trucks—I can steer it with one finger!"

They're speaking right up, these owners of '60 Chevrolets. Everywhere you go, they're giving out glowing reports on a revolutionary new truck ride that leads to a bigger day's work at less expense, praising truck power that "knows the most about saving money."

It's Chevy's total newness they're talking about. And you'll be talking, too, once you turn a new Chevrolet loose on your money runs. Your dealer can get you started, right away!

It takes Chevy's new Torston-Spring Ride to smooth out a road like this!

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frank Necaise of Sellers Community celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner followed by open house.

The home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Spiers at Sellers, was the setting for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Necaise renewed their wedding vows in the Lizzana Catholic Church with the Rev. Father Gregory Johnson officiating. Mrs. D. H. Lizzana of Lizzana the only attendant at their wedding, still living, attended the celebration.

Mr. Necaise and the former Rosella Mary Niolet were married in Bay St. Louis March 30, 1910, by the Rev. Father Chauvin.

They have six children, Mrs. Marshall Spiers, Sellers; Eric Necaise, Bay St. Louis; Clifton Necaise, Sellers; Mrs. Lee Ladner, Lizzana; Elvin Necaise and Mrs. Clarence Hoda, Gulfport. They have 11 grandchildren and three great-grand children.

Attending the celebration from here were Mr. and Mrs. Eric Necaise, Mr. and Mrs. John Egloff and Mrs. Ethel Necaise.

"The Devil's Disciple" To Show At A&G Theatre On April 3rd.

"The Devil's Disciple," one of the most colorful, lusty and wickedly witty of all of George Bernard Shaw's plays, has been made into a movie starring: Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and Laurence Olivier. The picture, filmed on location in England, opens on April 3 at the A & G Theatre through United Artists release.

Supporting the triumvirate of stars are Janette Scott, lovely 10-year-old English discovery, Eva Le Gallienne and Harry Andrews with Basil Sydney, George Rose, Neil McCallum and Mervyn Johns. "The Devil's Disciple" is a Hecht-Hill-Lancaster Films Limited, and Brynpryd S. A. Presentation, Harold Hecht produced, and Guy Hamilton directed the John Dighton-Roland Kibbee screen adaptation of Shaw's famous drama of the American Revolutionary War.

A curious fact about the filming of "The Devil's Disciple" was that, some 183 years after the event itself, the United States carried the war for independence to English soil. Battle scenes involving George III's Redcoats and the ragged colonists were staged in peaceful Dyrham Park, Hertfordshire, England, about an hour's drive from London.

Some of the funniest and most biting lines Shaw ever wrote were assigned to General John "Gentleman Johnny" Burgoyne, commander of the British forces, and man of extreme sophistication, wit and grace. As Gentleman Johnny Sir Laurence Olivier gives one of his most brilliant performances in "The Devil's Disciple."

Legion Theatre To Show "The Big Fisherman" Starting Friday, April 8

Set amidst the pageantry of the Holy Land and Rome of 2000 years ago, Rowland V. Lee's multi-million dollar production of "The Big Fisherman" used a corps of professional researchers to assemble the infinite minutiae of life of the period to give the indisputable stamp of authenticity to modes, manners, sets and costumes.

Dr. George M. Lamsa, authority on the Bible, famed author and lecturer, acted as technical advisor on the screen version of the Joyd C. Douglas novel, giving the film the benefit of his comprehensive knowledge of Scripture and the Holy Land.

John DeCuir, Award-winning production designer, drew heavily on voluminous research in designing the sets. His conception of Simon Peter's boat is based on ancient carvings of fishing boats on the walls of temples and other buildings in the Holy Land. It is what is known as a double-ended, with high curved prow and stern, bearing a marked resemblance to the dhows still in use in the Red Sea.

Famed costume designer Renie, assembled metallic silks imported from Damascus, hand-loomed cotton fabrics from Egypt, iridescent silks from Cambodia, saris from India, curled slippers from Iran and materials hand-loomed in Los Angeles. Renie's individual designs, ranging from those for peasant and fisherman to rich garments for royalty, ran into the hundreds.

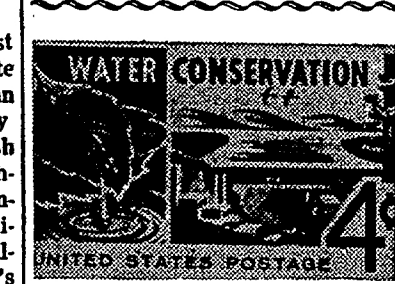

In another division of filmmaking was still another mammoth and authentic operation—the making of the props. This included such odd and interesting items as Roman coins and reed pans, Roman chariots, swords, shields, helmets, daggers, mirrors of burnished copper, fisherman's baskets and Galilean cooking utensils.

Robert Mitchum reprimands his rebellious son, George Hamilton, in a scene from "Home From the Hill," MGM film version of George Humphrey's best-selling novel. Eleanor Parker plays Mitchum's embittered wife, with other leading roles portrayed by George Peppard, Everett Sloane and Luana Patten. The picture, filmed in CinemaScope and color, was directed by Academy Award-winner Vincente Minnelli.

Starts Saturday, 6 p. m. at the Legion Theatre, Gulfport, and continues through Thursday of next week.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

This is a black and white reproduction of the 4-cent water conservation stamp that goes on sale April 19 at the post office here. The stamp, printed in three colors, goes on sale Monday, April 19 in Washington, D. C., at the Seventh National Watershed Congress.

The unique two-part stamp portrays a close-up view of a drop of water falling from a leaf, which symbolizes the influence of land and vegetation upon water supply. This design leads the eye into a right-hand panel depicting an actual small watershed panorama. People and industries in the town in the foreground are dependent for their water upon the watershed above, which ideally includes conservation managed farm and forest lands and small dams for flood prevention and water storage.

The action picture, filmed in CinemaScope and color is based on Hammond Innes' best-seller, telling the strange story of the freighter, Mary Deare, set afire and abandoned by its crew. When Gideon Patch (Gary Cooper), the only man aboard, is joined by John Sands (Charlton Heston) whose salvage boat has been rammed by the freighter on the storm-tossed English Channel, the latter discovers that Patch is deliberately intent on wrecking the Mary Deare at a London Court of Inquiry. Patch is faced by his accusers and the mystery of the Mary Deare becomes an international issue—a mystery which is not solved until the picture's climax in which Gideon Patch and John Sands undertake a danger-filled adventure in swimming underwater to enter the sunken hold of the wrecked ship.

ATTEND PROMENADE Mr. and Mrs. John Rutherford, Jr., Al Summy, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bourgeois, Harold Powell and Ed Werling attended the Southland Dixie Promenade of the 40 at 8 at Biloxi last week. Mr. Rutherford is Chef de Gare of Voiture Locale 251.

Ricky Nelson stars with John Wayne, Dean Martin, Angie Dickinson, Walter Brennea and Ward Bond in Howard Hawks' "Rio Bravo." Technicolor western drama presented by Warner Bros. and due March 31 and April 1 at the A & G Theatre.

"Wreck Of The Mary Deare" At The Star Theatre, April 3-4th.

With Gary Cooper and Charlton ("Ben-Hur") Heston starred, "The Wreck of the Mary Deare" is brought to the screen by Metro-Goldwyn-Meyer as a powerful drama of conflict and suspense, set against a spectacular backdrop of storm, swept seas, shipwreck, mutiny and murder. Guest stars in an impressive cast include Michael Redgrave, Emyln Williams, Cecil Parker, Alexander Knox and Virginia McKenna.
